

The Love we get

Love will always be put to the test, and do you know why? Because Love must be proven. It's effortless to say "I love you" even if you don't mean it, and for that, love will always be tested.

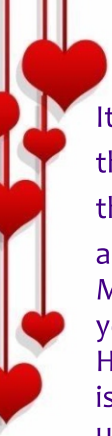

Do you know it was once impossible to love, to even love yourself, not to talk of loving others? Let me explain what I mean; the love I'm referring to is not the affectionate love a mother has for her child, nor is it the romantic love a husband has for his wife. These are kinds of love, and all are human love, but human love is selfish, including that of a mother to her child.

On the other hand, the love I'm referring to is the Godkind of love, Agape. This kind of love is different from human love. It is selfless, unconditional and everlasting. It can never fade out, nor can it run out. It flows from the very nature of God Himself.

Now this is not a fable or a fairytale. This is reality. This love is real. Maybe you've heard it so many times that it no longer makes much sense to you anymore, that "God loves you", but it is real. God is real, and so is His love. Like I mentioned earlier that love must be proven; God proved His love to us by giving up His only child.

The greatest demonstration of love has been exemplified in the very act of God towards us, through the person of Jesus. For God to let go of His Beloved, means so much. He didn't hold Him back because He knew He would gain you. He wanted you badly, so He let go of His greatest treasure so He could have you.

It was all for you. All the sufferings, pain and shame Jesus went through were for you. Do you know how He did it? He kept His eyes on the prize, which was you. You were the joy set before Him, and He bore all the suffering, pain and shame because of you.

Maybe you feel you're not deserving of His love because of things you've done wrong. But guess what? He loves you in spite of yourself. He loves you just the way you are. He loves you as He finds you. His love is not dependent on what you did or what you did not do. His love is unconditional. This is the love you get. This kind of love doesn't see your flaws.

This is good news isn't it? That God loves you and won't stop loving you. God loves you perfectly and will never stop loving you, because His love for you is not based on your performance but on who He is (1 John 4:8), and that is the Grace of God. There is nothing you can do to make God love you more or less. You just come into His love and let His love embrace you.

I'm pleased to let you know that God is at peace with you. It takes faith to accept His love and walk in it, for faith works with love (Gal.5:6). If you don't accept His love, you'd be doing yourself a grave injustice, and you won't be able to relate with God who wants a relationship with you.

I pray that you come to realize and understand God's love for you. If you want to make a decision to accept this love, speak out these words;

Lord Jesus, thank you for your love for me. Thank you for such great love you have for me. You loved me even when I was unlovable and couldn't love myself, you chose to come and die for me still. I accept your love for me, and I believe in You. I believe You died, were buried and on the third day rose according to Scriptures. I also believe that You have ascended and are seated at the right hand of the Father. I openly declare that You are Lord. Come therefore Lord Jesus and make Your home in my heart. Let your love fill my heart and overwhelm me. Thank You for accepting me in the beloved. I am now a child of God.
